Dangerous Goods Policy

Ausway Transport is devoted to providing a safe and secure transportation service of goods classified under dangerous goods and providing the complete safety of employees, the community and the environment.

We will achieve this by:

Ensuring all legislation regarding dangerous goods is administered to the strictest level and that all required licenses and permits are in place for the sites and the equipment involved.

Supplying services only to those who are able to recognise and operate to the guidelines of all dangerous goods legislation.

Ensuring all employees who are involved in the handling and transporting of dangerous goods are trained and provided with relevant information and safety equipment to minimise the risks associated.

Ensuring all subcontractors are audited by us prior to transport arrangements involving dangerous goods.

Continuing ongoing checks prior to each loading, to ensure full compliance with dangerous goods legislation.

Having documented procedures and systems in place to cover all aspects of our operations involving dangerous goods.

Ausway Transport will not handle products referenced in the ADG Code as "Too Dangerous to be transported".

All requests shall be checked for full compliance prior to acceptance of goods.

Consignments for casual one off senders shall be checked for total compliance prior to acceptance of goods.

The operation and procedures involving Dangerous Goods shall at all times be undertaken in a manner that is consistent with our commitment to quality, continuous service improvement, Occupational Health & Safety and Environmental Legislation.
